Member News from Steve Simmons

My wife Lorrie had a bad accident falling down some stairs almost 2 weeks ago. She split her femur and did all kinds of damage to the knee.

The femur broke the skin. She had major surgery on the 20th with a titanium rod from knee to hip with a bunch of screws.

After 5 days in the hospital they sent her home. She is not allowed to walk for 3 months and then after that start rehab. I was thrust into full time care taker while working a full time job
